

QPM : Wellness help applications

QPM wellness measurement provides answers to basic questions such as:

- What is my current physical, mental and emotional status?
- What do I need to improve my well-being?

The QPM measurement system starts with the body and can:

- analyze your current status
- prescribe
 - exercises for body and mind
 - the most appropriate care
 - health supplements and foods

The wellness help applications are intended for professionals in a variety of sectors.

Those sectors include fitness centers, spas, nutritionists, laboratories, longevity clinics and more.

Regarding nutrition, QPM identifies the foods to avoid and those best suited to the organism.

QPM provides information on oxidative stress levels and their consequences for the individual.

A single machine for several applications.

A single measurement for several interpretational readings.
